

THEM CHANGES

Outrageously talented outer space power trio, Them Changes are the future of rock and roll. Friends from school in Muswell Hill North London, the guys formed the band 18 months ago. Taking in the choppy directness of The Police, the guitar driven hooks of Cream, and the soulful delivery of old Stax and Motown performers. With passionate, on the edge vocals, beautifully controlled guitar attacks and some of the most innovative drumming around, this trio are a formidable combination. The band perform at their monthly night 'Hooligan Soup' at the Wheelbarrow, Camden. Booking friends to play and acts that they're currently into, the night has built up quite a following. Recent recordings with Ian Davenport at Courtyard Studios such as "In the Dark" and "You Stand Alone", have the potential to become anthems for the next generation. Their debut single "Lie To Me" was released at the beginning of May through their independent label Hooligan Soup Records and their video is creating a huge buzz online.
